

author list needs update (not your fault, of course - still pending) :
but we should see how the author list looks before submitting

L49 : "ionizations events" -> "ionization events"

OK

L80 : "allows to identify and suppress correlated ..." -> "allows the identification and suppression of the correlated ..."

L100 : "a handful" -> "a few" or "several" (handful sounds like someone can hold them :)
" a few"

L157 : "which excluded" -> "which excludes" (a definition doesn't need to be in past tense)

L172 : "were first" -> "are first" (statement is true both in the past and currently)

L351 : "... DAMA signal is most likely are explored and no evidence for an excess is found."

Maybe the last sentence of the paper should not be about DAMA, but should be a reiteration of our message about the full deployment of DAMIC100.

How about something like :

"The calibration and performance of the detectors, understanding of backgrounds, and analysis techniques necessary for the ongoing full deployment of DAMIC100 have been firmly established. "
