Description

Hi,

getProductType should, if possible, use the metadata to ascertain the type without reading the product from input. If this is not possible then at the very least, it should resolve the product before attempting to access it.

History

#1 - 12/09/2011 03:30 PM - Walter E Brown

- Status changed from New to Accepted

Needs verification to see whether this is still an issue. Some rationalization has taken place.

#2 - 06/26/2012 02:07 PM - Marc Paterno

- Status changed from Accepted to Resolved

This function has been removed, and the replacement (producedWrapperType) does the right thing.
