- Subject changed from Add support for intermediate status between failed and successful: warning in the web application. to Add support for the "Warning" intermediate status between Failed and Succeeded in the web application.

- Parent task set to #12662

The Warning status will be added to the existing ones (Running/Pending/Succeeded/Failed/Skipped). The "Warning" status will be used to tag CI tests that are able to run the main process, but fails in accessory tests. This status will be provided by reporter.sh script.

#2 - 07/12/2016 11:30 AM - Vladimir Podstavkov

- Status changed from New to Accepted

- Estimated time set to 4.00 h

#3 - 07/22/2016 11:24 AM - Michele Fattoruso

The changes on the script side for this feature are into the feature_warning branch. The exit code sent to the interface is 3.0, and it's actually recognized as passed test. The feature branch will be merged into the master branch in the next hours

In the CI web application it could be useful to use a different icon for the "Warning" CI build, now it is used the same icon used for the "Failed" CI builds.

It could be worth to know that the exit code for "Warning" CI build is 201.

#7 - 12/20/2016 10:09 AM - Vito Di Benedetto

- Target version changed from v1_0_0 to v0_7_0

Please, in the CI tests view, sort the CI tests list according the severity of the CI test status, i.e. using increasing order for the "status" except for status "0" (CI test succeeded) that should be last.
