Description
Scenario:
Select a user from one of the hot selections in entries/comments. It properly refines to orUserName=John, then select filter. The filter page shows orUserName=John. Select norUserName equals john and submit the filter does not know of any username filtration.

History

This happens if the first selection comes from the filter client.

- Status changed from Assigned to Closed

I found that the JSP was not specifying the username correctly from the url.
