Description

Might as well get this request officially in Redmine. Could we have an automatic entry at the start of shift, differentiated from the other entries somehow (different background color?) and identifying the shift (Day, Evening, Owl, Day+, Owl+)? A comment could then be added with the shift roster.

Thanks for adding it here so I keep it on the list of things to do.

- Status changed from New to Resolved

We threw out the Shift summary and Start of shift categories for a "Shift Change" category. The idea is that the crew chief would submit his/her shift summary under this category and then the oncoming crew would comment this entry with the shift roster. The "Shift Change" category will be highlighted when viewing the logbook.
