Description
In the old log, you could see at a glance who was on shift. That is a useful feature. It should be easier to tell at a glance who is on shift, without having to hunt for the start shift entry. Maybe some kind of sidebar.
Also, the start shift entry doesn't tell you who the CC is, and it should.

Added BossOSchedule link atop of the Elog to temporarily accommodate.

- Tracker changed from Feature to Idea

- Status changed from New to Closed

A year later I think most people have become accustomed to not having the roster up front. This doesn't mean we can't do something but its a very low priority now.
