Description

Art Kreymer

The 'Request an account' form under the ECL 'Login' page, like https://dbweb4.fnal.gov:8443/ECL/minos/U/account_request has the following text after the 'Requested username' field :

"use LDAP (Services for FNAL users) account name if you have one"

I suggest changing this to the equivalent, but more direct :

"Use your Fermilab username if you have one"

This should be easier for new users to understand.
Fermilab users have a single username for Windows/Kerberos/LDAP.
