Description
I think it would be a great idea to put a link of the Hot Item Book to the top of the new Elog.

I don't think the HIB is general enough for the top bar. Historically we didn't advertise this link (We previously hid the link behind the CC name on the shift roster), I'm not sure why, maybe it was considered inappropriate for everyone to see?

I do agree the current elog doesn't really address the HIB very well. Essentially we need somekind of reminder system, like a true memopad. The elog is fine for documenting hot item actions its the reminder part we are missing.
