Description

I made a note today and tagged Dan and Marcellus. I left and came back and Vaia was tagged on my note. The only thing that changed in the mean time was that Dan commented on the note. Really weird. Not sure what is going on.

I don't have specifics but I have seen this happen before but I shrugged off as some mistake I made.

I can't see a way for this to happen... There is no other function manipulating the entry after the form submission. Weird! I'm going to close it but if you see it again please document the crap out of it!
